

DANISH AGRO INDUSTRY | STABLE SOLUTIONS

Ivar Haahr A/S is a developer of products for ventilation and ceiling light in stables and industrial buildings.

COMPANY PROFILE

A good indoor climate is important for an optimal production. Therefore, Ivar Haahr develops and sells products for natural ventilation and ceiling light. The company was founded as Gesten Silofabrik in 1963. In 1984 the company changed name to Ivar Haahr A/S. In 1997, the company was handed over to Carsten Haahr.

Ivar Haahr A/S has a showroom with different models of ceiling light and ventilation. The showroom also has material samples, sketches, and pictures of completed projects.

The company has great experience with setting up the products and adjust them to the customer's individual needs.

PRODUCTS

The natural ventilation products include curtain ventilation, ceiling ventilation, and fire ventilation.

Ivar Haahr offers different kinds of ceiling light: both insulated and non-insulated. The ceiling lights can be delivered as either a transparent or an opal-white edition. The ceiling light can be combined with ceiling light ventilation.

The company has a separate division that focuses on developing and manufacturing products for willow purification plants.

The project range consists of:

- Ceiling light
- Curtain ventilation
- Ceiling light ventilation
- Natural fire ventilation
- Tube comfort ventilation
