

DANISH AGRO INDUSTRY | STABLE SOLUTIONS

BouMatic is one of the world's leading manufacturers of dairy equipment.

COMPANY PROFILE

BouMatic is an American company with European departments in The Netherlands and in Denmark. In 2007 the Danish company Strangko A/S was taken over by BouMatic, and today the Danish department is called BouMatic A/S. The company's main areas lie within milking techniques, and covers traditional parlors, rotaries and milking robots. Another central part of their area of business is automatic slurry systems.

BouMatic's vendor- and service-network is branched all over the world. This ensures that wherever the customer's production is placed, they can be sure to find a BouMatic certified vendor nearby.
